What is Buprenorphine?

Buprenorphine is a partial opioid agonist that treats opioid dependence by reducing cravings and withdrawal symptoms, enabling safer recovery. It also serves as a potent pain management option with fewer side effects and lower overdose risks compared to full opioid agonists. Due to its unique ceiling effect on respiratory depression, Buprenorphine has an improved safety profile, making it preferable for long-term treatment under professional care.

Key benefits:

- Reduces opioid cravings and withdrawal safely
- Decreases risk of misuse compared to full opioids

- Long-acting effect enabling less frequent dosing
 - Effective for chronic pain management with lower addiction potential
